

Health Savings Account (HSA) application

Important information about procedures for opening a new account

To help the government fight the funding of terrorism and money laundering activities, federal law requires all financial institutions to obtain, verify and record information that identifies each person who opens an account. What this means for me: When I open an account, I will be asked to provide my name, address, date of birth, Social Security Number and other information that will allow you to identify me. All information for the Health Savings Account (HSA) owner must be completed and returned before an account can be established.

Designation of beneficiary

At the time of my death, the primary beneficiaries named below will receive my HSA assets. If all of my primary beneficiaries die before me, the contingent beneficiaries named below will receive my HSA assets. In the event a beneficiary dies before me, such beneficiary's share will be reallocated on a pro-rata basis to the other beneficiaries that share the deceased beneficiary's classification as a primary or contingent beneficiary. If all of the beneficiaries die before me, my HSA assets will be paid to my estate. If no percentages are assigned to beneficiaries, or if the percentage total for any beneficiary classification exceeds 100 percent, the beneficiaries in that beneficiary classification will share equally. If the percentage total for each beneficiary classification is less than 100 percent, any remaining percentage will be divided equally among the beneficiaries within such class. This designation revokes and supercedes all earlier beneficiary designations that may apply to this HSA.

I Am Not Married. I understand that if I marry in the future, I must complete a new Designation of Beneficiary form, which includes the spousal consent documentation.

I am the spouse of the HSA owner. Because of the significant consequences associated with giving up my interest in the HSA, the custodian has not provided me with legal or tax advice, but has advised me to seek tax or legal advice. I acknowledge that I have received a fair and reasonable disclosure of the HSA owner's assets or property, including any financial obligations for a community property state. In the event I have a legal interest in the HSA assets, I hereby give to the HSA owner such interest in the assets held in this HSA and consent to the beneficiary designation set forth in the "Designation of beneficiary" Section.
